GERMAN MAYOR TO SPEAK HERE ON THURSDAY

Rolf W. C. Englebrecht, mayor of Weinheim, Germany will speak on "West Germany Today" at an assembly Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the Student Union Building at Gettysburg College.

Englebrecht was elected mayor of Weinheim, a city of 28,500 population, in March, 1948 for a period of six years. He was re-elected in 1954 for a 12-year term. Born at Bischwiller, Alsacia, Englebrecht's early school was there and Karlsruhe and an Arnheim, Holland, where he completed high school. He studied law at the universities of Freiburg, Kiel, Munchen, Paris and Heidelberg from 1924-1928. After passing his juridical state examination, he worked as assistant with Dr. George Melchior, a well-known specialist for international private law at The Hague.

STOPPED BY NAZIS

In July, 1932 he passed his second juridical state examination and qualified as a lawyer to run for the career as judge, attorney, and other higher administration positions. While at Karlsruhe in August, 1932, his profession ended abruptly when he was forbidden by Nazi laws to appear before the courts and to practice his profession because his mother was of Jewish descent. He then went with an insurance company at Karlsruhe and worked at many places in Southern Germany.

In 1942 he emigrated to Holland to protect his mother, who lived in her native country since 1938 and was in great danger. Submerging with her at Amsterdam, he worked with a Dutch insurance firm. He returned to Germany in 1945 as a repatriating displaced person and became a state official of the Land Government of North-Baden at Karlsruhe in the Department of Interior.

In 1950 on invitation of the U.S. State Department Englebrecht spent three months in the United States studying American local government under the exchange program.

Little Girls In Curlers—Boys Protest

Little girls in curlers . . . little boys in protest . . . That's the scene in many homes in Adams County today as families prepare for Easter Sunday morning.

The weather will be ideal, according to forecasters, and clergymen are anticipating record crowds for all services Easter morning. Hundreds of members from all denominations are anticipated for the sunrise service on Oak Ridge. Many of the early participants also will attend Easter services in their own churches later in the morning.

The traditional "Easter Parade" of fineries will be sight to behold and mothers will breathe a sigh of relief only after the small fry are safely inside the front door and headed for their bedrooms "to change." Bouffant dresses and patent leather shoes, delicately flowered little hats and crisp white gloves will be retrieved after services for future use. Long pants, white shirts, bow ties and hats will be shed quickly and not too carefully for another trying ordeal.

Gettysburg began to overflow Friday afternoon with visitors to the Battlefield—many of whom will attend local church services. National Park officials predict the largest Easter attendance to the field in history.

Local florists are reporting phenomenal sales of floral arrangements, corsages and traditional Easter flowers.

EASTER EGGS COLOR MARKET

Easter Saturday was a blaze of colored eggs at Farmers' Market today.

All colors and all sizes were offered from 65c a dozen to 10 cents each for double-yolked chicken eggs and market attendants proved themselves to be real color artists.

The only meat offered today was cured ham, which sold for $1.20 a pound for slices and 55c a pound for roasts. Turkeys were available on order at 40c a pound. Cured bacon was 50c a pound.

VENERATION OF CROSS IS HELD FRIDAY

The solemn liturgical action of Good Friday was conducted in St. Francis Xavier Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Kealy, pastor, as the celebrant; Rev. Fr. G. Hohen, Washington, D. C., deacon, and Rev. Fr. Mathias, Spring Grove, subdeacon.

From after Mass Holy Thursday evening when the institution of the Holy Eucharist was commemorated, throughout the night and until the hour of service Friday, members of the congregation kept watch at the Repository.

Friday afternoon the three priests entered the sanctuary vested in the long white albs but no other vestments. Immediately they prostrated on the sanctuary floor before the altar which has been bare since the conclusion of Thursday evening's service. After this brief prostration, an act of humility, the History of the Passion according to St. John was read.

CHANT PRAYERS

After the passion was completed, the celebrant put on a black cope. Various prayers were chanted at which time the celebrant prayed for the church, the supreme pontiff, for all religious and faithful, civil authorities, catechumens, needs of the faithful, unity of the church, conversion of the Jews and finally for the conversion of pagans.

The most impressive part of the Good Friday liturgy was the unveiling and veneration of the cross. A veiled crucifix was carried to the right side of the altar where the unveiling took place. Facing the people while the veil is being gradually removed, the celebrant, with the deacon and subdeacon assisting, sang "Behold the wood of the Cross, on which hung the Saviour of the world." The congregation knelt.

"He Is Risen!"

"And they said among themselves, who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre? And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great." Mark 16, 3, 4

The revelation that Jesus had risen that first Easter Sunday morning was more than Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of James, and Salome could comprehend at first: "... they trembled and were amazed . . ."

Jesus had risen just as he had prophesied. It was the glorious climax that has given the Christian Church its full meaning. The truth of that meaning is beautifully expressed in the words of Victor Hugo, "The tomb is not blind alley: it is a thoroughfare. It closes on the twilight, it opens on the dawn."

Thousands Flock To Holy Land For Eastertide; Four Services On Good Friday

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
JERUSALEM, Jordan (AP) — Thousands of Christians have flocked to the Holy Land for Eastertide to share in the rituals marking the crucifixion, burial and resurrection of Christ.

Eastern and Western churches held four separate burial services on Good Friday. Sunday the pageantry of worship turns to the joys of Easter.

Pilgrims knelt beneath flickering candles at Calvary on Good Friday night as priests lifted an effigy of Christ's body from the cross and buried it in Jerusalem's ancient Church of the Holy Sepulchre—to most Christians the exact site of Christ's crucifixion.

CHANT HYMNS

Calvary is now a balcony inside the church doors, its bare rock shielded with rich mosaics, candles and clusters of glowing lanterns. Pilgrims from many lands bowed in the dark vaults of the church crumbling with age and resounding with chants of hymns. They watched robed and bearded

The Aspers area, for which Charles Kingston is chairman, completed its drive with $181 raised, an increase of $78 over last year. The Cashtown-McKnightstown area headed by Glenn Musselman, ended its drive with $104.50 or $5 more than in 1962. The Heidlersburg area, where Mrs. Donald Lady was head of the campaign committee, raised $118.45, or $7 more than last year. Gene Motter heads the campaign in the Idaville-Gardners area where $183 was raised or $54 more than a year ago. Dwight Rinehart was chairman for the Munnasburg area where $35.25 was secured, or 50 cents less than last year and Mrs. Irvin Conover was chairman for the Two Taverns area which raised $25.25 or $20 more than last year.

The special gifts committee, headed by Dr. W. E. Tilberg has raised $2,060 so far.

Kingston had special praise for solicitor Clair Dull, one of the group raising funds in the Aspers area, who secured $78 more than in the prior year.

CATCH TRIO OF AUTO THIEVES

Three young men who chose a woods off the Harrisburg Rd. in which to rest found Friday their choice placed them in the Adams County jail.

The three were listed at the jail as Elwood Allen Cook, 19, Clifton Springs R. 2, N. Y.; Roland W. Berglan, 21, Rochester, N. Y., and William Robert Welpe, 20, Rochester, N. Y.

State police said a resident of the area saw three young men "lying around" in a woods back a little used country road off the Harrisburg Rd. near Cleveland's park and phone police, suggesting that "they might be up to something."

State police investigated and found that actually the young men were resting after a long trip from Rochester in a car which further investigation disclosed had been stolen in Rochester.

Fugitive charges were brought against the trio before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder and they were placed in the county jail to await arrival of New York authorities.

GARY KEEPERS KILLED IN CAR CRASH FRIDAY NEAR FAIRFIELD

Gary L. Keepers, 22, Waynesboro R. 4, a native of Gettysburg, was fatally injured Friday evening at 5:20 o'clock when his car left the Fairfield-Zora Rd. and struck a tree.

Dr. C. G. Crist, the Adams County coroner, said the death was instantaneous and caused by a crushed skull. Dr. Crist said Keepers apparently was thrown from the car when it struck the tree and then the car fell on top of him.

Julius Swope, local service station operator who was called to remove the wreckage from atop the dead man, used chains across the tree to lift the completely demolished vehicle from the man. Swope said marks on the tree and the position of the body indicated that the car struck several feet up in the tree after leaving the highway. Parts of the tree passed through the windshield and apparently held the vehicle in the tree briefly while the door flew open, the body of the car bent and Keepers fell to the ground. The car roof then gave way and the auto settled down atop its driver.

WAS ALONE IN CAR

A cutter for the Fairfield Shoe Co., Keepers worked Friday. A fellow worker there who normally accompanied Keepers did not work Friday and the Waynesboro R. 4 man was alone when the accident occurred, Dr. Crist said.

State police put the scene of the accident one mile west of Fairfield, along Route 116. They believe Keepers lost control of the car which, according to marks at the scene, apparently was headed west, went off the north side of the highway, then turned south, crossed the road and went off the south berm colliding with the tree about 15 feet off the road. It is believed that the car struck a small culvert before striking the tree.

Police said Keepers' 1957 auto was completely destroyed and estimated the damage at $950. The top was ripped off the car, doors

Christians To Observe Great Feast Easter

EASTER SERVICES BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians throughout the nation—Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox—will gather Easter Sunday to celebrate the centuries-old but ever-radiant drama of Christ's resurrection.

Wherever there stands a sign of the cross, the reverent will make their way to mountain-top altars, valley shrines, outdoor arenas, unground caverns and flower-bedecked churches.

"He is risen—He is risen indeed," will ring throughout Christendom.

President Kennedy and his family are likely to attend Easter services in Palm Beach at St. Edwards or, as they did last year, attend private services held at the home of the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is recovering from a stroke suffered in December, 1961.

GOOD WEATHER

The Weather Bureau said exceptional fine spring weather is in store for the nation as a whole, which will give Easter Parade participants a chance to show off their new spring clothes.

The most spectacular of these will be on New York City's Fifth Avenue, where tens of thousands will parade.

One of the largest outdoor services will be held in Florida at Miami Stadium. In previous years, the services and a pageant sponsored by Miami Council of Churches drew 40,000 yearly.

In Winston-Salem, N.C., the 191st Moravian Sunrise Easter Service will be held in front of Home Moravian Church. The Annual crowd, which usually numbers 20,000, marches to God's Acre, the Moravian graveyard, called "City of the Equal Dead."

PLAN FIELD TRIP

The Gettysburg Young Farmers Association will conduct a field trip Tuesday afternoon starting from Gettysburg High School at 12:30 o'clock. Secretary Harry Burns Jr. has announced. The members will visit the Allen dairy farm near Mechanicsburg. From there they will go to the Konhan's turkey and dairy farm, also near Mechanicsburg, and the final stop will be at an automatic hog feeding operation along Rt. 15.

MINISTER SHOT BY ASSAILANT DOOMED TO DIE

ALGIERS (AP) — Doctors said today Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti still clung to life but that there was no hope of his surviving an assailant's bullet.

Physicians have kept the 33-year-old minister's respiration going artificially. The minister's brain was damaged and his legs paralyzed when an assailant fired a pistol bullet into his face Thursday.

Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was at Khemisti's bedside Friday night when he went to see the minister's bride of four months, the former Fatima Mechiche.

LOST FIRST MATE

Mrs. Khemisti, a deputy in the Algerian National Assembly, lost her first husband during Algeria's bitter war for independence.

Police continued to interrogate Khemisti's assailant, identified as a 30-year-old former schoolteacher. The man apparently had several identity cards and police said his name has not been definitely established.

No new light has been shed on the motive behind the attack which alarmed members of Algeria's first independent government.

Many ministers and other political figures have personal enemies in a country where shooting a man was a daily occurrence not long ago.

Lenten Thought For Today

"So it was written, so it was fitting that Christ should suffer, and should rise again from the dead on the third day." Luke 24:46.

Easter, the feast of the Resurrection, is the dawn of a new day. Just think, if there had been no cross, there would have been no gospel. Likewise, if Christ had not risen from the dead, His death on the cross would have been useless for the removal of human guilt. He told us that He had to suffer because He had to show the evil of sin and, indeed, evil was most manifest in the "Crucifixion of Goodness." No greater darkness would ever descend upon the earth than that which fell upon Him on Calvary. However, no greater light evidenced itself to the world than the "Resurrection of Goodness"; for St. Paul exclaims, "Our faith would be in vain if Christ did not rise from the dead."

The law Christ gave us is clear; life is a struggle; the divine Saviour never said to His followers, "Be good and you will not suffer"; but He did say, "In this world you will have tribulation." The Resurrection doesn't offer us immunity from evil in the physical world but immunity from sin in the soul.

The world and a restless one has raised the question concerning the "whyness of life," but it is the "Resurrection" that answers this question. Let us, indeed, be most appreciative for the graces that we have received, and, in turn, through them become inspired men and women and transfigure some of life's greatest pains into the richest gains of the spiritual life.

HOT AIR RAVEN LANDS SAFELY

CALAIS, France (AP)—The hot air balloon Raven carrying two Americans landed today at Grave-lines, near Dunkerque, after crossing the English Channel.

It landed on French soil about 3 hours after going aloft at Rye, England.

It was the first balloon of its sort—using heated air instead of gas—to make the cross-channel trip. The last attempted crossing in a hot air balloon ended in failure 180 years ago when sparks set the balloon fabric on fire.

The American crew waited eight days before making its crossing, held up by contrary winds and threats of thunder—the balloonists' greatest hazard.

Riding a platform beneath the 50-foot plastic-covered nylon bag were two Americans from Sioux Falls, S.D.—Ed Yost, 43, and Don Piccard, 37, employees of a Sioux Falls balloon firm. Piccard is the son of the late Jean Piccard, noted balloonist.

An alternate pilot, James R. Smith, 43, also of Sioux Falls, was waiting in Paris for his teammates.

NEW OXFORD'S SCHOOL BD. ELECTS TWO; OKAYS BUDGET

Approval of the 1963-64 budget, election of two teachers and accepting resignations of three others, was the principal business of the New Oxford Area Merged School board at its April meeting. The session, presided over by Glenn Haar, president, was attended by 17 directors.

After giving preliminary approval to the record $526,600 budget for the merged district, the board indicated that no tax increase would be needed. This means that the 48-mill tax on real estate will remain. Other taxes include a one per cent property transfer tax, 10 per cent occupation tax, five per cent amusement tax and a $10 per capita tax.

It was noted by Charles Hash, supervising principal, that a new budget might have to be prepared in a month or so, if new legislation raising teachers' salaries and the basis for state aid proposed by the governor passes.

ELECT LOCAL GIRL
Resignations accepted included Sylvia Hartman, high school librarian; Ruth Miller, elementary teacher, and Ruth Deatrick, elementary teacher, who plans to retire. Elected as teachers were: Jean Robert, Gettysburg, a graduate of Millersville State College, and Janet Sell, Littlestown, also a Millersville graduate. They will receive the starting $4,000 yearly salary. The board also approved supplemental pay for the athletic program.

A resolution adopted authorizing a new lease agreement for the high school made necessary because of the recent new bond issue. The lease dated April 1, 1963, will replace the lease dated May 1, 1959.

After approving a request of New Oxford Borough Council to permit Berlin Ave. to be widened 10 feet to the east from end of the present curbing at the elementary to Berlin Rd., the board adopted a resolution requesting the School Authority to take the necessary action to release the area from the lease of 1952. A sidewalk is to be constructed by the school district from the elementary school to Berlin Rd. to eliminate the danger of pupils who must now use the street to get to Berlin Rd. and the high school. The additional 10 feet will provide greater access for buses using the street.

APPROVE CALENDAR

The board was told of a new state regulation giving a new scale of mileage allowance for Vo-Ag teachers. The regulation states that 10 cents a mile allowance must be given to the teacher for the first 1,000 miles and five and one-half cents for each mile over 1,000. The old rate provided for an eight and one-half cents a mile "across the board." The new regulations also call for $7, plus tax minimum for lodging for towns under 100,000 and $9 for those over 100,000. The state provides 80 per cent reimbursement on these expenditures, it was noted.

The 1963-64 school calendar as presented by Supervising Principal Hash was approved. The calendar calls for school to open September 4. The day prior, September 3, will be orientation day and will be for teachers only. October 7 and 8 the schools will be closed for county institute. Other closings include November 28 and and responded, "Come, let us adore." This chant was repeated three times, at each change of position of the celebrant.

VENERATE CROSS

Then the celebrant gave the unveiled cross to two acolytes. Two other acolytes with lighted candles knelt on the top step facing the cross. All the acolytes joined the celebrant in venerating the cross. They removed their shoes and, as they approached the cross, made a single genuflection three times and then kissed the feet of the Crucified.

The congregation then approached the altar railing to offer their respect to the symbol of salvation.

When the veneration of the cross ended, the acolytes placed it on the altar, high enough to be seen by the faithful.

Then the altar was made ready for the Communion service which followed later.

RECITE LORD'S PRAYER

Then, the celebrant put on the purple or violet vestments. In a simple procession, the ciborium which contained the Blessed Sacrament was carried from the repository to the main altar for the final portion of the ceremony. Then the celebrant and the congregation joined in the solemn recitation of the Lord's Prayer in Latin.

Immediately after Holy Communion had been distributed, the celebrant washed his fingers and concluded the ceremony with the chanting of three short prayers, the first of which reads: "May Thy blessing, we beseech Thee, O Lord, descend copiously upon Thy people, who have devoutly recalled the Passion and Death of Thy Son; may Thy kindness come upon them. May their holy faith increasingly grow, may their eternal redemption be strengthened. Through the same Christ, our Lord. Amen."

After the ceremony, the ciborium containing the Sacred Particles which was placed in the tabernacle after the distribution of Holy Communion was carried to a temporary tabernacle. Then the celebrant stripped the altar and left the tabernacle door open, to show the utter desolation of Christ.

TEN YEARS AGO
"Mother" Mitchell intends to "Take It Easy" After She Closes Restaurant Tuesday: What do people do when they retire after a long span of years spent in the restaurant business?

Mrs. Jennie Mitchell knows what she's going to do when Mitchell's Restaurant closes its doors, under this name, at 2 p.m. next Tuesday.

First, she's going to Detroit to attend the wedding of a granddaughter. When she comes back to Gettysburg she's just going to "take it easy" and enjoy life away from the restaurant, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Violet E. Hill, 231 Baltimore St.

Mrs. Mitchell, "Mother" Mitchell, as she has been known to all her employees and hundreds of Gettysburgians who have patronized the restaurant, is the widow of "Boss" Mitchell, otherwise known as George F., ex-carnival man whose forte, before setting up to feed hungry wayfarers here, was the sale of such souvenirs and novelties as would enslave the nickels and dimes out of the pockets of those who attended fairs, carnivals and street parades.

Mr. Mitchell opened a souvenir store next to the restaurant, which was later replaced by a tap room. The restaurant, while Mr. Mitchell operated it, was open 24 hours a day, Sundays and holidays, not even closing for Christmas. "After all, people have to eat every day," he said. Only in more recent years, since his death on February 14, 1944, has the restaurant been closed on Christmas Day.

Since 1944 the restaurant business has been managed for Mrs. Mitchell by her daughter, Mrs. Hill. And now it's going to be closed only one night, Mrs. Mitchell says the doors will be locked at 2 p.m. March 31. Cloyd Shetter, who has operated the Shetter House for several years, and who purchased the Mitchell property on the square recently, will take over on April 1.

Mrs. Mitchell is now 78 years "young." She is in good health with one single exception, her eyesight. For some time now it has become increasingly difficult for her to see. And she says eye-glasses will not help.

Many persons, Adams Countians and some tourists who came here several years ago, remember not only Mitchell's Restaurant, but the battlefield relic, the old artillery wheels which stood in front of the souvenir shop for many years.

The wheels disappeared into a storage room seven or eight years ago. Now even the name which has graced this corner so long is going.

Nostalgic memories will always assail many people. It is very likely that for years to come, Gettysburg residents, and even some tourists, will say: "Remember when Mitchell's stood on the corner of the square?"

And it is also likely that people will be a long time forgetting "Boss" Mitchell, or his widow, "Mother."

Build 2 More Store Rooms At Shopping Area: Ground has been broken for two additional stores to the Gettysburg Shopping Center being constructed by Glenn L. Bream at the corner of West Street and Springs and Buford Avenues.

A large store is nearing completion for the Acme Super Food Market. Acme is expected to take over the new room sometime between April 15 and 20 and the formal opening is scheduled, tentatively, for sometime between May 10 and 15. Installation of shelving, counters and cases will require the additional time. It will be air conditioned.

The new stores will be added to the present structure. Each will be 30 by 30 feet. The first will be leased to the Pennsylvania State Employment Service now

Today's Talk

PREACHERS ALL!
I have listened to much foolish talk against those who preach, so-called. As a matter of fact, we all preach. And the good thing about it is that all of us may profit by the little sermons spread around us.

We are admonished by one whom we may consider beneath us, perhaps, in conduct and understanding. Nevertheless, the sermon is taken, and unconsciously does us good. All preaching is useful. I have liked to listen to the talk and advice of almost everyone whom I have met. I have gained many a valuable lesson this way. And I was not concerned as to whether that person was my equal, inferior, or superior. Who is to decide such questions?

I am only interested in improving my plane of conduct and in raising my standard of values. If I have better vision today than yesterday, I see more and thus have marked up progress in my little life ledger. But it is waste of time to dispute and flounder in argument and tilt.

Nearly everything that we learn is from something or somebody. And that somebody may have understood better than we ever shall. Neither fact matters so far as we are concerned. We should get an especial thrill every time a new truth, fact, or discovery is brought home to us. There lies the zest, glory and purpose of our own existence.

I have often been benefited most by those who have abused or misunderstood me — and I have called their preaching good! Even though I might have made up a face while taking the medicine.

Books preach to us. A battered automobile, passing by, presents us with a most formidable sermon of carelessness, shiftlessness and neglect. People's gardens preach to us. So do city streets. So do jails. Of ten there is a greater sermon in a face than in the words that proceed from the mouth of that face.

Our success is largely measured by the attention we give to preaching all about us. The pictures on my library and business office walls are forever preaching to me — and whenever I neglect or fail to do what I should do, I get a sermon back — from myself to myself!

Preachers—aren't we all!

Just Folks

TRUE ARISTOCRACY
It was a sad day for the earth
When money stole the stamp of worth

And man began to judge a friend
Merely by what he had to spend,
And make his motor car and dress
Badges of genuine success.

True aristocracy requires Descendants who reflect their sires
In courage and in purpose true;
Who, whether dress be old or new,
Still meet the simple moral test
Of holding fast to what is best.

A dozen poverties are worse
Than is the poverty of purse,
Poorest of all on earth is he Who lacks the thought to kindly be
Or lack those beauties of the mind
Which mark a mortal as refined.

Once more we turn again to see
How lasting graciousness can be;
How great is honor and how fine
A faith in joys that are divine;
That using well the gift of birth
Is the eternal proof of worth.

Scranton Pledges To Aid Farmers

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Scranton said Thursday night his administration's efforts to establish a high standard of living in Pennsylvania certainly must include agriculture.

"Today, 43 per cent of all employed persons in the Commonwealth receive all or part of their annual income from 'agribusiness' he told the state Association of Artificial Breeding Cooperatives.

"When the financial welfare of so many persons hinges on the success or failure of any one segment of our economy, the importance of that segment to our whole economy becomes quite obvious," Scranton said.

Mary Magdalene Visits Tomb, Jesus Speaks To The Disciples

The first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciples, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie.

And thapkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

DISCIPLES LEAVE
Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,

And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master.

JESUS SPEAKS TO MANY

Jesus saith unto her, Touch me; for I am not yet ascended to my Father; but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God. Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord. Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

THOMAS ABSENT
But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas was with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

CONCILIATORY PLEA TO STEEL BY PRESIDENT

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's conciliatory plea for restraint in price advances raised hopes today that another government vs. industry battle may be avoided.

No producer pledged its support of the President's plea for restraint. But none rushed to post even the kind of "selective" price increase which Kennedy did not oppose.

In a terse announcement the dominant producer, United States Steel Corp., said it is making "a continuing study of steel price matters" and will have no statement until after Easter.

AFTER PRICE RISE

The President declared his stand Thursday, two days after Wheeling Steel Corp. posted increases on six steel products and thereby raised the threat of a 1963 re-enactment of last year's struggle.

Kennedy's statement had an element of warning: He will again oppose any "general across-the-board increase." It was also, in effect, an offer of compromise: The government cannot object a "selected price adjustments up or down, as prompted by changes in supply and demand."

Kennedy urged "similar restraint" on the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers. But labor experts say that by agreeing to some price adjustments, he may have eased the way for a wage increase this spring. The union can call for wage talks after April 30.

STEEL STOCKS RISE

There was widespread speculation in Congress and among lesser administration officials that Kennedy had taken quiet soundings which satisfied him that the steel managements would not make broad and inflationary price advances—which might in turn provoke high wage demands.

The stock market surged up and several steel issues hit 1963 highs. Analysts said investors apparently either thought Kennedy had given the steelmakers a license to go gunning for price boosts or, more probably, felt he had headed off another struggle with great steel corporations.

MAY RESCIND

The latter kept silent, however, and out in West Virginia the 11th-ranking producer, Wheeling, still sat alone with its $6 a ton average increase on several major products.

Steelmen generally agreed that unless major companies post matching increases within the next week or so, Wheeling would have to rescind its new price schedule.

Kennedy did not indicate in his statement how he felt about Wheeling's price boosts. Neither Wheeling nor the rest of the industry could know how extensive "selected" increases could be viewed them as "general" increases.

'HAZEL' SEEMS DESTINED FOR LONG TV LIFE

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—At a time when many television series are warily awaiting a life-or-death sentence, "Hazel" is happily launching its new season.

The NBC comedy show, one of the few series with a single sponsor, has begun shooting its programs for the 1963-64 season. After 13 are in the can, the company will disband for a summer vacation, reporting back for the rest of the season in the fall.

"Hazel" seems destined for a long life, largely because of the engaging personality of its star, Shirley Booth. Beginning her third year as the nosy, warm-hearted maid, she appears willing to continue in the role indefinitely.

NOT CONSIDERED "GRIND"
A top award-winner of both the stage and screen, she raised eyebrows among her fellow actors. They asked why she needed the television grind.

The answer seems to be that she doesn't consider it a grind, and that may explain at least part of "Hazel's" success.

"I like my work," she commented. "It's confining, but I compensate for that. I have adjusted to the kind of life I lead."

STAGE FORGOTTEN

When Miss Booth is working here, she lives at the Chateau Marmon, a homey place that is favored by New York visitors. Unlike many New York actors, she likes living here—"take away the smog and you've got paradise."

With "Hazel" prospering, she doesn't even think about a return to the stage. "I still have scripts sent to me, but I don't read them," she said. "My agent knows not even to submit them to me."

CELTICS SEEK FIFTH STRAIGHT CAGE PENNANT

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — There are plenty of reasons—not the least of which is money—why the old pro Boston Celtics want a fifth straight National Basketball Association playoff championship and sixth in seven years.

The Celtics begin the best-of-7 finals against Los Angeles Sunday night at Boston Garden.

Ask Tommy Heinsohn why the Celtics want this title so much and he replies:

"I guess the biggest reason is that everyone jumped off our bandwagon at the beginning of the year. All of a sudden the Lakers were the team—the team of the future. That hurt."

$21,000 TO WIN

The winner of this series, which continues here Tuesday night and then moves to Los Angeles Wednesday and Friday, gets $21,000. The loser takes in $14,000.

But there's most to it than that. The Celtics want to prove they're not over the hill and had dedicated this one to retiring Capt. Bob Cousy.

The Lakers are driven by the desire to avenge their loss to Boston in the full seven games a year ago when the Celtics pulled out a frantic 110-107 overtime verdict in the final game.

Both teams are just coming off full seven game semifinals in which the Celtics outlasted Cincinnati and the Lakers eliminated St. Louis.

ACCUSE WHITE MEN OF FIRING NEGRO'S HOME

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP) — Arson charges have been lodged against two young white men who admitted hurling flaming Molotov cocktails into a Clarksdale home where Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., a Negro, was an overnight guest.

Theodore A. Carr, 24, a college student and former resident of this North Mississippi Delta town, and Luther Aubrey Cauthen, 26, of Clarksdale, remained in Coahoma County jail in lieu of $10,000 bonds each.

Police Chief Ben C. Collins said both men admitted the 2 a.m. attack Friday, but asserted they were "just having fun" and didn't know Diggs was in the house.

They said they didn't know whether the occupants were white or Negro.

DRAPERIES ABLAZE

"The emotional impact of being awakened by a bomb out of a dead sleep is tremendous," said Diggs, a resident of Detroit.

He was here to study the Negro vote registration drive in Greenwood—scene of arrests and demonstrations in past weeks.

Diggs was an overnight guest at the home of Aaron Henry, a druggist and president of the Mississippi branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

One of the two Molotov cocktails — a softdrink bottle filled with gasoline—crashed through a picture window, and exploded, setting draperies on fire.

DROPS FROM FIRST TO 17TH

By KEN ALYTA

Associated Press Sports Writer GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Gary Player relearned an old lesson—golf is a humbling game—and in the process he slipped from first place to a tie for 17th as the $35,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament moved into its third round today.

The Little South African was almost lost in the pack after a second round 74 Friday during which he four-putted the 17th green, missing a backhand from about three inches.

While Player was having his troubles, Doug Sanders unleashed a 35-30-61 round, only one over the event record, and moved into the halfway lead on a record-tying 133. The Georgia native with the short swing held a three-shot edge over Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., whose 67 gave him a 136 total.

Tommy Davis Is Punting Champion

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Davis, who boomed one kick 82 yards, was officially crowned the National Football League's punting champion.

Final statistics released by the league show Davis kicking 48 times for an average of 45.6, just grabbing the title from Los Angeles' Danny Villanueva. The Rams kicker punted 87 times for a 45. average.

Sam Baker of Dallas was third with a 45.4 average, followed by Detroit's Yale Lary at 45.3. San Francisco took the team title, solely on Davis' kicking. No other player attempted a punt. Davis punted for a total of 2,188 yards. Los Angeles was second, with Villanueva accounting for all the Rams' 3,960 yards.

DETROIT HAS BACK TO WALL IN ICE SCRAP

By JERRY GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer DETROIT (AP) — The desperate Detroit Red Wings have the advantage of home ice Sunday in their effort to avert a Toronto sweep in the final playoff for the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup.

It means mostly that Gordie Howe will have a better chance of skating away from his shadow. At home, the Wings will pick their starting line-up after their Maple Leaf rivals, Detroit, thus, can juggle around a little more in hopes of loosening the guard on the league scoring champion.

The Red Wings, down 2-0 to the Maple Leafs in the best-of-7 competition, are looking for any sort of tonic to revive them. The series resumes with the third game at Detroit's Olympia Stadium. The fourth game also will be at Olympia Thursday.

WINS FIRST TWO

Toronto won the first two games at its own Maple Leaf Gardens by 4-2 scores.

"Perhaps home ice will be the pickup we need," said Coach Sid Abel, whose Wings lost the first two games of their semifinal series with Chicago and won the next four.

"We did pretty well at home all season and it certainly worked in our favor during the Chicago series. But if it doesn't help us in Sunday's game we're done."

WILLIAMS IS FAVORED TO BEAT TERRELL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cleveland Williams, the heavyweight contender who packs power in both hands, is rated a favorite to defeat Ernie Terrell tonight in a scheduled 10-round nationally televised (ABC) boxing match at the Arena.

The fight could be the last one in Pennsylvania for some time.

Gov. William M. Scranton will meet with the State Athletic Commission Monday to discuss the future of boxing in Pennsylvania following the amateur ring death of 19-year-old Francisco Velasquez in Carbondale last Saturday night.

The governor has been asked to declare a six-month moratorium on the sport and a bill has been introduced in the State Senate to outlaw boxing.

The 30-year-old Williams has scored 46 knockouts in 61 bouts. He won 10 by decisions and has lost only four while earning one draw. He was knocked out twice by heavyweight champion Sonny Liston before Liston became champion. However, Liston rates Williams the hardest puncher he ever met.

In 35 bouts, Terrell has won 31 and lost four. Sixteen of his victories have been by knockouts.

Scranton To Study Death Of Fighter

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A state Athletic Commission report on the death of an amateur boxer in a fight at Carbondale last Saturday night will be handed to Gov. Scranton next week, probably on Monday.

Jim Crowley, chairman of the commission, says he has completed his investigation of the fight in which 20-year-old Francisco Velasquez died.

Meanwhile, in Harrisburg, Gov. Scranton disclosed he is meeting with the three-member commission Monday to discuss, not only the Velasquez case, but the future of boxing in Pennsylvania.

The governor said his thinking was that action is necessary to prevent fatalities in the ring.

SHIP REPAIRS DAMAGE AT SEA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The banana boat Atlantic Reefer repaired her own damage today and resumed her voyage to Galveston, Tex., after sending out a distress message, the Coast Guard reported.

A small army of ships and planes sped toward the Yucatan Channel about 400 miles south of Havana, Cuba, where the 17-man crew of the Atlantic Reefer reported Friday night it was abandoning ship.

A radio message from the merchant ship Pacaya reported that the 173-foot Atlantic Reefer was no longer in distress and this was later confirmed, the Coast Guard said.

Described as a converted Navy tender, the 1,120-ton banana boat en route to Galveston, Tex., from Ecuador reported about 8 p.m. that it was sinking fast, the Coast Guard said.

The rooms will be furnished with wall-to-wall carpeting, king-size double beds, television and 24-hour telephone switchboard service. A baby-sitter service also will be offered for guests with children.

The new motel will employ approximately 125 persons, the owners said.

More than 350 motels in America are operated under the Holiday Inn of America franchise.

2 Students Killed In Michigan Crash

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — Two Villanova University students, returning to their Michigan homes for the Easter vacation, were killed Thursday when their car plunged into a creek near Monroe.

The victims were Michael J. Gardner, 22, of Royal Oak, and Christopher W. Jones, 21, of Midland.

A third student—Robert Denton Jr., 21, of Detroit—was injured seriously. He was taken to a Detroit hospital.

McBride Satisfied To Pitch '63 Season

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "I just hope to pitch a complete year and I'll take my chances on what comes after that," says Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels when anyone mentions a 20-victory season.

McBride won 10 straight games last season and in late-July he suffered a cracked rib and was practically idle the last two months of the season. He compiled an 11-5 mark. In 1961 he had a 12-15 record as a rookie.

VET CAUTIONS YOUNG STARS ON NIGHT LIFE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of baseball's great left-handed pitchers, Rube Marquard, says the Los Angeles Angels' two pitching prima donnas, Bo Belinsky and Dean Chance, should duck the night life crowd.

"I'm afraid these two young men don't realize that they're just throwing their money away in the night spots," said the former New York Giant star, as he chatted with Angel General Manager Fred Haney.

"When they can't win regularly, and it always happens to those who follow the night life crowd, they'll find that these associates will drop them. They'll wonder later why their salary was cut."

"Why, there's so much money to be made in baseball these days that it is surprising that pitchers with talent like theirs can't seem to realize it."

Voice From Sky Urged Panamanians To Build Runway In Back Jungle

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—A remote village in Panama has been brought in close touch with the 20th century, thanks to an Air Force "voice from the sky" that taught villagers to carve an airstrip out of the jungle.

The Air Force called it the "most spectacular project" yet undertaken by its Air Commandos in the Caribbean area.

TRAIN FORCES

The main mission of the Air Commandos is to train friendly forces in antiguerrilla techniques. But they also have been fostering "nation building" civic action projects.

An airstrip for the village of Chiman was such a project. Air Commandos flying overhead in loudspeaker-equipped planes gave instructions to the natives on how to build the strip. The Panamanians didn't meet their instructors until the airmen landed on the finished runway.

The airstrip, hacked out of the jungle with machetes and other hand tools, brought the village within 45 minutes by air of Panama City, 75 miles away.

TOWN ISOLATED

Until the strip was opened on March 30 the town and surrounding areas, with a population of only 3,000, were isolated from roads or railroads. And the 21-foot tides in the Bay of Panama hampered boat traffic.

The Air Force said all the project cost the United States was the gasoline it took to fly loudspeaker planes over the community.

It all began last December when Col. J. I. Klette of Rahway, N.J., flying over southeast Panama, noticed the isolation of many of the settlements and decided aviation was the answer.

Chiman was chosen for the pioneer project, and things got under way in February.

USED LOUD SPEAKER

First the people had to be sounded out. Morgan Smith of St. Petersburg, Fla., director of the Caribbean Air Commando Tropical Survival School, rode a single engine plane over the town and spoke to the townsfolk in Spanish through a loudspeaker.

"We are able to help you build an airfield," Smith's voice boomed. "We are going to drop a plan in order that you may see what is needed to build a runway."

The plane dropped smoke markers to show the location the Air Force men thought best for the

NATIONS VOTED

Then Smith's plane dropped two strips of luminous colored cloth. He asked the villagers to arrange the strips in a letter "X" if they were willing to build the runway with tools the Air Commandos would drop.

"We will return in two days for your answer," Smith called down as his plane turned away with Lt. Col. Robert L. Gleason of Phoenixville, Pa., at the controls.

Two days later, Smith returned. Below was the luminous "X" — the villagers' "yes."

The villagers then received their instructions by loudspeaker. The next day, Feb. 12, three AXIR Force planes dropped files, axes, picks and shovels near the town. The work began.

On March 30 the strip was done, crude perhaps—but serviceable.

FIRE LEVELS PHILADELPHIA SHOE BUILDING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fire destroyed the four-story Hanover Shoe building in the heart of the downtown business district Friday.

Flames, which broke out shortly after 3 a.m. in the building at 1207 Market St., raged for more than two hours.

The fire was brought under control by some 150 firemen using 22 pieces of apparatus.

The entire rear of the building was afire and the flames burned into the second floor before firemen could get enough hoses lined up.

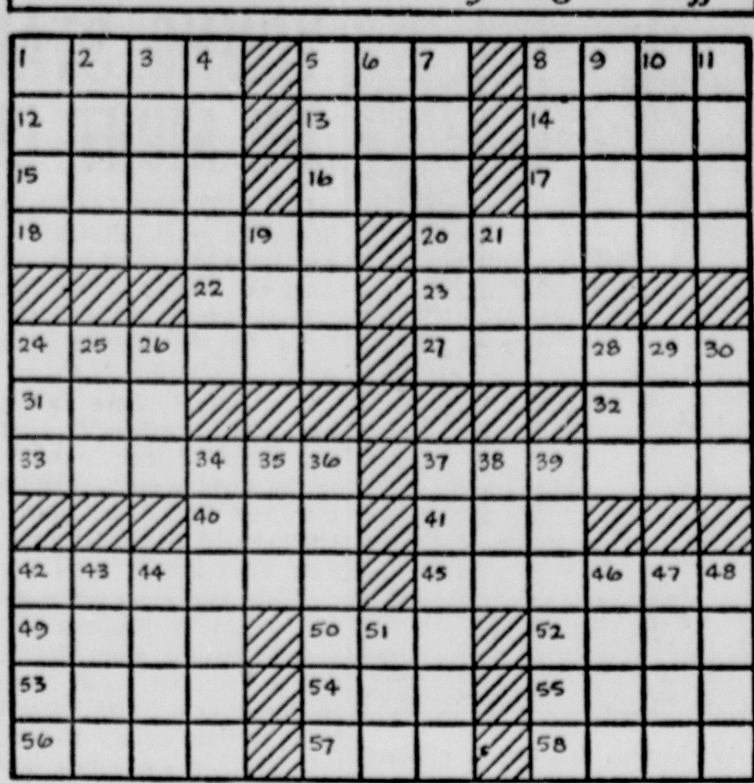

Fire Chief George E. Hink said fire fighting conditions were difficult because windowless walls forced his men to take hoses to the roof. High pressure lines were used against metal doors at upper levels of the building, the water pressure forcing the doors to spring open.

Fire Marshal William Connolly said he was making a thorough investigation of the fire. "I consider it to be under suspicious circumstances," Connolly said. He declined to elaborate.

Whipped by strong winds, the flames burned through all four of the floors and the roof, lighting up much of center city.

NICE WEATHER IN MANY AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mild weather with clear skies was prevalent today as the nation celebrated Easter weekend.

Most of the country basked in abundant sunshine with the temperature moving into the 60s and 70s in some areas.

But scattered showers and occasional rain fell through the Pacific Northwest inland into the northern Plateau and southward other nearby building were damaged by smoke. Water seeped into the Market Street subway but was pumped out and service was not affected.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Jack Cody, 79, coach of the U.S. women's swimming team at the 1956 Olympics, died Thursday in a nursing home.

Dust On Furniture Shows How Radioactive Fallout "Could Affect Your Life"

THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

The dust on your furniture is a form of fallout. It's a harmless form, but it's an example of how radioactive fallout could affect your life if this country ever suffered enemy nuclear attack.

Fallout is formed when a bomb explodes on or near the ground. As the fireball rises, it takes with it a great deal of earth and other material. Because of the intense heat, this debris melts and fuses with radioactive particles from the bomb. Large fragments descend almost immediately on the devastated area. Small particles, like the dust on your furniture or even smaller, "fallout" over periods ranging from half an hour to many months.

In an attack, most of the country would escape the direct effects of blast and heat. The main hazard in these areas would be radiation from fallout. You can't see, feel, taste, smell or hear this radiation.

ONLY PROTECTION

Distance, time and shielding are the only protection against radiation. Nothing can be done about the first two. They depend on the weather and the location of the bomb burst.

Shielding, on the other hand, is a matter of concern to everyone. With proper protection, people can survive even in areas of heavy fallout. An ordinary frame house would reduce radiation to half that outside. Selecting the safest spot now available and then adding more shielding could cut exposure still further. You can get more details, plus plans and shelter insurance from the Adams County Extension Office, 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa.

LIQUID FERTILIZERS
Liquid fertilizers appear to give the same crop response as dry fertilizers if they are applied in equal rates, at the same time and are properly placed in the soil.

Plants need a certain amount of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Whether this is applied in liquid or dry form makes little difference to the plant. The amount applied and the manner applied is the important factor.

Liquid fertilizer weighs about 10 pounds per gallon. So it takes about 10 gallons of liquid fertilizer or fertilizer solution to be equal to 100 pounds of dry fertilizer of the same analysis. For example, a 100-pound bag of a 10-20-10 fertilizer is approximately equal to 10 gallons of a 10-20-10 liquid material. The 100-pound bag and the 10 gallons of solution would each supply 10 pounds of nitrogen, 20 pounds of phosphate and 10 pounds of potash. This means to get equal results, apply about 10 gallons of solution for each 100 pounds of dry fertilizer of the same analysis.

Also for best results, they should be applied in the same manner. If the dry fertilizer is plowed down, the liquid should be plowed down. If the dry material should be drilled at seeding, the same is true for the liquid material. To be equal in cost, 10 gallons of a liquid material should cost about the same as 100 pounds of dry material of the same analysis.

CHEMICAL SPRAYERS

Many complaints of poor chemical performance can be traced to poor sprayer performance. This is often due to poor calibration. What is calibration? It means simply, to apply a known amount of spray mixture to a known area.

There are several methods used to calibrate a sprayer, explains Lee H. Snyder, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. The simplest is to travel over a selected area (about one-tenth acre) and determine the amount of water applied.

Measure off a strip that provides a known area. For example, a 22 foot boom traveling over a 198 foot course provides one-tenth acre. Next, fill the sprayer tank with clean water to a given point. Then travel over the course at the expected rate of speed. Make sure you are up to full speed by the time you turn the spray on at the beginning of the course. Measure the amount of water applied by placing the spray tank in the same position and refilling to the same point.

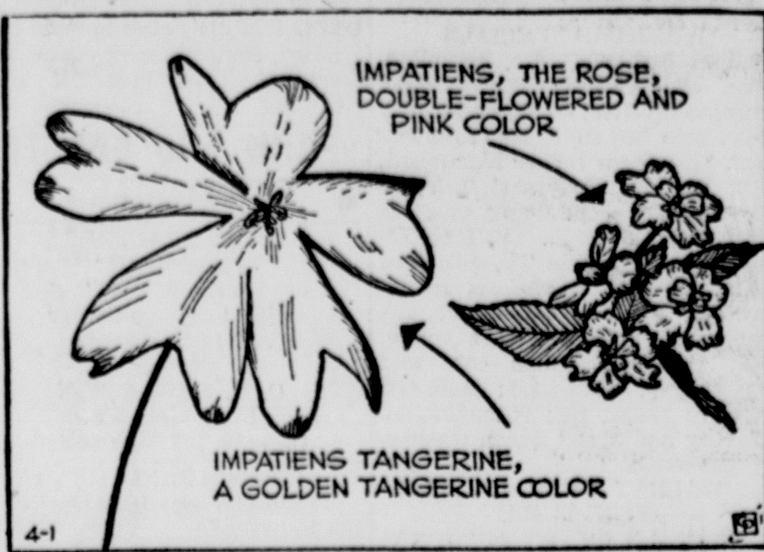

REDUCE AGITATION

Most wettable powders and emulsions call for 20 to 40 gallons of water per acre to provide good coverage and reduce agitation problems. Thus, you should have applied two to four gallons on the one-tenth acre plot.

If the amount is beyond this range, adjust by one or a combination of three ways: To increase rate: Slow travel speed (by shifting to a lower gear — keep engine speed up to provide adequate pressure); increase pressure; or use larger nozzle tips. To decrease rate: Use opposite of above three methods. Always stay within the range of pressures specified in the spray-

Two New Unusual Impatiens

By EDNA HALLIDAY

There are quite a few annuals which will grow happily in partial shade, but only a few which like full shade. If this is your problem, then plant tuberous-rooted begonias, fibrous-rooted begonias, lobelia, coleus and impatiens.

Two new, beautiful impatiens plants are introduced this year exclusively from the George W. Park Seed Company, Greenwood, S. C.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, Impatiens Tangerine has flowers larger and more graceful than other impatiens. It is a golden tangerine color, an entirely new color in this family. The leaves are glossy and somewhat different in shape, having a distinct texture.

The plants are husky and free blooming, growing about 15 inches tall. It can be used to brighten shady summer borders or make a striking color note as a potted plant in the shaded area of the patio. Later it can be brought indoors to continue blooming all winter.

The other new and beautiful impatiens is the Rose. This is, as shown, a horticultural rarity, being the first double-flowered impatiens. The plants are bushy, growing about one foot high, with flowers like a small double rose or pure pink color.

The new coleus, Chartreuse, is good for sun or shade. It is a beautiful color and blends with any other color nicely.

Hoatzins, birds of South America, are hatched with claws on their wings which they use as extra legs to climb through tangled tree branches.

USDA HEARINGS ON MILK END UNTIL MAY 17

PHILADELPHIA — A month-long U.S. Department of Agriculture hearing on proposed changes in milk marketing regulations in the Philadelphia-Wilmington-South Jersey area was adjourned here with May 17 set as the date for filing briefs on the proposals and a final decision not expected for several months.

The public hearings before U.S. Department of Agriculture Hearing Master Will Rogers ran from March 5 through April 3 and included testimony of more than 50 witnesses on questions involving changes in areas under federal order regulations and the system of pooling to be used in determining the price farmers receive for their milk.

The Interstate Milk Producers' Cooperative, a four state organization of over 4,000 dairy farmers, asked that the area of the present federal order 4, known as the Philadelphia milkshed, be joined with Wilmington's federal order 10 and be further extended to include South Jersey, which is not now under federal regulation. This area extension proposal was supported by United Milk Producers' Cooperative Association of New Jersey, Trenton and the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, Allentown.

DECISION COMES LATER

Another area proposal, made by the Milk Distributors Association of the Philadelphia area, was to include parts of Bucks, Montgomery and Chester Counties in Pennsylvania under order 4. This was opposed by the Lehigh Valley Cooperative and the Suburban Milk Dealers.

Greenhill Dairies, Inc., Wilmington, and Sealtest, Division of National Dairy Products, asked in conclusion of Kent and Sussex Counties in southern Delaware under order 4. This was opposed by the Kent-Sussex Milk Dealers of Delaware.

A proposal by the Interstate Cooperative, Lehigh Valley and United Milk Producers that a handler-pool type or pricing be retained in the area was supported by the South Jersey and Philadelphia Milk Dealers, and the New Jersey Cattle Club. Opposed to the handler pool were Michael's Dairy, Philadelphia, and Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency and Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives, all of Syracuse, N.Y. (In a handler pool, prices paid to producers vary according to the percentage of milk their individual dealers utilize as class I, or bottled, and class II, or manufactured.)

School Closed By Meningitis Death

SPANGLER, Pa. (AP) — A 15-year-old Indiana County girl has died in Miners' Hospital of Meningococcal meningitis.

Linda Yeager, 15, of Arcadia died Thursday, two days after being admitted to the hospital.

She had been a junior at Purchase Line High School in Commerce.

Lynn K. Smith, supervising principal, ordered the school closed until next Tuesday after consulting doctors. The Easter recess was scheduled to end Tuesday.

Testimony on other points concerned minor changes in the class I price formula and asked that the Philadelphia order remain basically as is.

Following the submission of briefs on or before May 17, the federal government will write a recommended decision, after which all interested parties may file exceptions and submit another brief before a final decision is issued.

ABC-TV Will Show Unpublished Scenes, Taken In Vatican, In Easter Programs

In an Easter Sunday special program especially filmed by ABC-TV, viewers will see scenes and activities of the Vatican never before photographed. "Our favorite sequence, however," says Executive Producer John Seandari (also noted for his novel, "Three Coins In The Fountain"), "is of Pope John, filmed as he worked at his desk, giving a special blessing and a message about world peace." The program will be seen April 14, 6:30-7:30 p.m. EST.

Rome-based newsman, John Casserly, has his own fond recollections of the mammoth effort, which yielded 40,000 feet of film, of which only 2,000 can be used for the one-hour show. Pope John XXIII talked to Casserly about his children who are both all-American and "True Romans," the latter not implying a conflict in citizenship but rather that the boys were born in the Eternal City and baptized "beneath Michelangelo's Dome of St. Peter's."

"Discovery" trio—Frank Buxton, Virginia Gibson and Corpuscle the Bloodhound—who range the wide world for material for the ABC-TV daytimer, will reach for wider audiences in the fall when the program moves to Sundays. (The alligator was a guest.)

TV "Discovery" To Be Hour Show

By RUTH B. THOMPSON

If you're a nine-to-five (work day, that is) you've been missing out on one of the most informative — and entertaining — shows on the air. It's ABC-TV's "Discovery '63" (Mondays-Fridays, 4:30 p.m., New York Time) hosted by Frank Buxton.

But come autumn the network is going to remedy that. It's changing "Discovery" to a one-hour format and moving it to Sunday afternoons. Sort of giving equal time to fathers, mothers, uncles and aunts instead of limiting its bounty to the seven-to-twelve (years-old, that is) group.

WON EDISON AWARD

The show had been on the air only two months when it won the Thomas Alva Edison Award as "The Best Science Television Program for Youth" . . . and yet is isn't a science program per se! It's an "everything" program. Among the topics it's tackled are medicine, American Indians, Eskimos, armor and sportsgear, picture writing, silent movies, how to choose a puppy, how to train a police horse, gardening and money.

Recent "Discovery" guest Astronaut Walter Schirra in advising youngsters not to commit themselves too soon to science careers, accidentally summed up "Discovery's" guiding philosophy. After cautioning, "not everyone can be an engineer or a scientist," Schirra said: "You should realize there are classical studies, there are arts, there are many, many professions, many fun things to do besides pure science."

And if Schirra summed it up, host Frank Buxton epitomizes it.

MAJORED IN RADIO

Buxton majored in radio and television in college and minored in zoology and English. After pocketing one degree from Northwestern University and another from Syracuse University he went to work as a producer the reversed the usual procedure and switched to acting in 1961 (with the Australian touring company of "Bye Bye Birdie").

Asked why he thought he got the "Discovery" spot for which over 100 actors had auditioned, Frank — a refreshing, unaffected person — crumpled bonelessly in a chair and mused, "perhaps because my own interests are so diverse. I'm not show big

Though Casserly (who has worked in Rome since 1957) and his wife are both Americans (from Chicago and Seattle, respectively) he told the Pope that the boys five, three and a year and a half in age, speak good Italian but very little English. The Holy Father assured Casserly that the boys would speak in English some day, implying softly that they should. The focus of the Easter program Secondary says "is not theological, nor historical. It is our Easter present to everyone who is interested in the Vatican as a repository of beauty, a seat of history as well as the religious heart center of five hundred million people throughout the world."

Included said another network spokesman "are not only the ceremony, color and pomp of holy office, but the actual physical workings of the smallest state in the world." Many of the buildings have been standing since the year 600. A.D.

Helen Jean Rogers (Mrs. Secondary) the program's producer who last year won the McCall's Award has been widely hailed for previous documentaries. She is a former instructor in political theory at Harvard University (where the present Aga Khan was one of her students). Miss Rogers speaks seven languages. Locales for her previous documentaries were India, Africa, Brazil and, interestingly, Italy where she studied the communist menace in 1961.

THE THINGS YOU LEARN

You might say the Kentucky miner commutes to work says Miss Kit Clarke, producer of last week's ABC special "The Miner's Lament." "The ride is five miles but deep as well as long. "No chance to read the morning paper on this run," she continued. "It's a spooky, rollercoaster ride." And moonshining she adds is not confined to folklore and legend. She found out the hard way when she and cameraman George Silan ducked rifle shots after poking around a deserted mine. All was well when we explained "we were just taking pictures" and the mountain boys incredulously said, "You mean you ain't revenuers?" Their mine was making its profit not on coal but on a still.

SEASONAL LAMENT

"We owe more than we can tell to the government of this wonderful nation," notes Victor Griffin of "Sing Along With Mitch" . . . "and the payment date is April 15."

you know." Maybe not but in his one year of acting (before the highest - quality, and currently most expensive, daytime television production swallowed him whole) Buxton managed to appear in stock with such name stars as Buster Keaton, Eva LeGallienne and William Lundigan.

WORK FROM OUTLINES

"I have an attic mind," he explained further. "There's lots of junk there, lots of things to draw on. We don't work from full scripts here, you know, just sort of outlines . . . so I can toss in something stupid of my own." His own, yes. Stupid, no. He's invariably right on the nose.

There's no time these days for Buxton to do any acting on the side (or even guest panel shots) for the demands of this one show make him the busiest emcee in the business. Not only do "Discovery" topics range widely, so do its locations. (The show is noted for its original film).

Frank has gaped through a telescope in the desert and peered through a microscope in a New York laboratory, wandered through Tivoli Amusement Park in Denmark and broadcast from underwater in a Seaquarium tank in Florida. He's kept talking cheerfully while a runaway ocelot climbed and leaped around the set. Nervous? "No, I like animals. I know how to handle them." There was a time in the desert with a rattlesnake, though. No he wasn't afraid of the rattlesnake but in cooperating with the snake's handler to calm the critter (it too had got away and was on the loose) Frank with the camera grinding away moved gently back — right onto a cactus.

"DEAD ELEPHANT"

"The time I really looked like a goof ball, though — a dead elephant — was the square dance show. Fortunately Ginny (co-star Virginia Gibson) made up for it. She was right in her element, music and dancing."

The show's other co-star, a velvety-eyed bloodhound named Corpuscule, came in for some praise too. "He rehearses hardly at all. His initial reactions are so wonderful to catch when we get him on a new set or location. He's great with his fans, too. When we're out on the job he lets children come up and pat him. He's an intelligent, sweet, wonderful individual."

Frank is pretty nice to his own fans, too. He answers every letter himself by hand because "I wrote a radio program once when I was a child and I'm still waiting for an answer."

ENTIRE CLASS WATCHES

So the little girl who wrote, "I've saved $1.98 to buy a frame for your picture," and the 80-year old man who said, "I travel again with you," or the teacher who says "my entire class watches," will all get holographs.

And for that part of the mail that asks for one or another programs to be repeated, the producers have an answer. They've just commenced a series of carefully edited "Best of Discovery" re-runs.

And for the future . . . where will "Discovery" go next? Well, we're told, maybe to Japan, maybe even to Moscow. And after THAT, what will they find to do? "Don't worry," waved Frank in parting. "We're certainly not going to run out of subject matter. The universe is too big."

San Jose, Costa Rica's 3,870-foot elevation and average 75-degree temperature give it a constant springlike climate.
